You Already Knew

Before Oprah said our name. Before men from across the country found their way to Jack's for the first time — you were already here. Writing checks. Showing up. Quietly insisting that male caregivers mattered.

You built this community. And in November of 2025, the world found out.

Oprah told her book club audience about Jack's Caregiver Coalition, and something remarkable has happened since. The number of men asking for our support has quadrupled. Four times as many men are finding their way to a Klatch, to a Jack-to-Jack Coach, to a community of people who deeply understand them. Four times as many men are realizing they don't have to do this alone.

Much of that success belongs to Oprah. But what's happening now belongs to you.

Because here's the thing about a surge like that: it only works if something solid is in place to receive it. A foundation. A community. A team. Infrastructure built not in a sprint, but over a decade of sustained, faithful generousity. When those men came looking, Jack's was ready. Not because of luck. Because of you.

You are the reason a caregiver in rural Minnesota found a coach who understood him. You are the reason a man in Georgia discovered he wasn't the only one feeling this way. You are the reason that when the world showed up, we were ready.

We want to be honest with you about where we are. 2024 ended in the red for the first time in Jack's history — a reflection of real growth, real demand, and real costs. We told you that in last year's report because you deserve the truth. And here's another truth: the surge of 2025 makes the stakes higher and the mission more urgent than ever. More men are asking. More men are ready. And we are serving each one with the same high effort hospitality that we always have.

This report is shorter than usual. That's intentional. Because the most important thing we want to say to you doesn't require 27 pages.

It requires three words.

You built this.

You built the Klatches where men laugh and cry and show up for each other. You built the coaching relationships that help men feel equipped instead of overwhelmed. You built the community strengthening the rapidly rising tide of caregivers Oprah sent our way. You built something that — if we stay in it together — will strengthen one million men by 2035. And after that, it will strengthen millions more.

We are so proud to be in community with you. Not just grateful. Proud. Because what you've chosen to invest in is rare and true and needed. And we don't take that lightly. Not for one single day.

Let's keep building.

Steeped in gratitude,

Kyle Woody

When Men Started Showing up

4x MORE MEN ARE FINDING JACK'S

When Oprah shared Jack's with her audience, more men began finding their way to our community. What was once 4 men a month has become 4 men a week.

Every new signup represents a man choosing to unlearn a lifetime of "handle it yourself" and instead finding connection, honesty, and support.

They found us because you made sure we were here when they needed us.

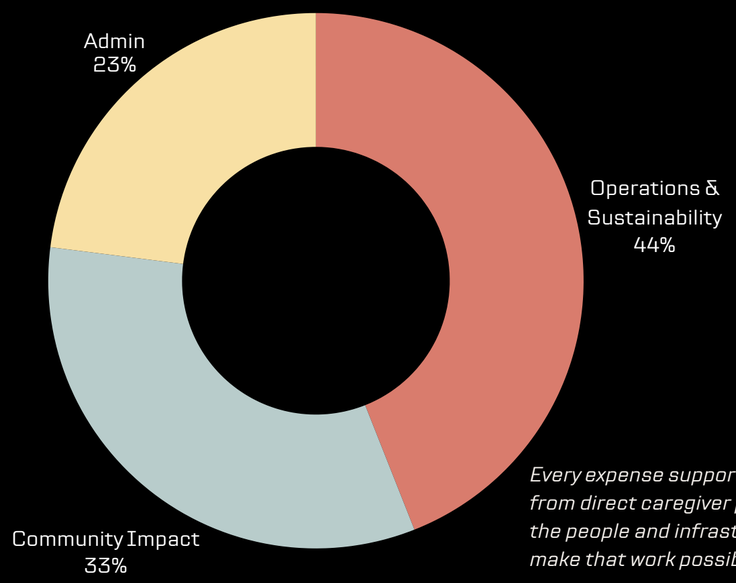
Expenses



Every expense supports our mission: from direct caregiver programs to the people and infrastructure that make that work possible.

Gross Revenue	Total Expenses	Net Revenue
$292K	$409K	$(117K)

We ended 2025 in the red. It's not where we want to be, but it's the truth.

At the same time, more men found their way to Jack's than ever before, and we chose to show up for every one of them.

Building a sustainable future will take all of us. With your support, we can continue making sure no man cares alone.
